The old Family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.
Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great Blood Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout New York. jan6 d&wlm

THE REFUNDING BILL.

As It was Passed by the House.

The following is the text of the bill as it passed the House:—

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that all existing provisions of law authorizing the refunding of the national debt shall apply to any bonds of the United States bearing a higher rate of interest than four and one-half per centum per annum which may hereafter become redeemable, provided that in lieu of the bonds authorized to be issued by the act of July 14, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," and the acts amendatory thereto and the certificates authorized by the act of February 26, 1879, entitled "An act to authorize the issue of certificates of deposit in aid of the refunding of the public debt," the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue bonds in the amount of not exceeding $400,000,000, which shall bear interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after five and payable ten years from the date of issue; and also certificates in the amount of $300,000,000 in denominations of $10, $20 and $50, either registered or coupon, bearing interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year and payable in ten years from the date of issue. The bonds and certificates shall be in all other respects of like character and subject to the same provisions as the bonds authorized to be issued by the act of July 14, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt;" and acts amendatory thereto; provided that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to authorize an increase of the public debt; provided that interest upon the six per centum bonds hereby authorized to be refunded shall cease at the expiration of thirty days after notice that the same have been designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption.

EXCHANGE OF BONDS.

SEC. 2.—That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, in the process of refunding the national debt, to exchange, at not less than par, any of the bonds or certificates herein authorized for any of the bonds of the United States outstanding and uncalled bearing a higher rate of interest than four and one-half per centum per annum, and on the bonds so redeemed the Secretary of the Treasury may allow to the holders the difference between the interest on such bonds from the date of exchange to the time of their maturity, and the interest for a like period on the bonds or certificates issued; but none of the provisions of this act shall apply to the redemption or exchange of any of the bonds issued to the Pacific Railway companies, and the bonds so received and exchanged in pursuance of the provisions of this act shall be cancelled and destroyed.

SEC. 3.—Authority to issue bonds and certificates to the amount necessary to carry out the provisions of this act is hereby granted, and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to make suitable rules and regulations to carry this act into effect, provided that the expenses of preparing, issuing, advertising and disposing of the bonds and certificates authorized to be issued shall not exceed one quarter of one per centum.

GOLD AND SILVER TO BE USED.

SEC. 4.—That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, if in his opinion it shall become necessary, to use not exceeding $50,000,000 of the standard gold and silver coin in the Treasury in the redemption of the five and six per centum bonds of the United States authorized to be refunded by the provisions of this act, and he may at any time employ the surplus money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of United States bonds or certificates, provided that the bonds and certificates so purchased or redeemed shall constitute no part of the sinking fund, but shall be cancelled.

SECURITY FOR BANK CIRCULATION.

SEC. 5.—From and after the 1st day of May, 1881, the three per centum bonds authorized by the first section of this act shall be the only bonds receivable as security for National Bank circulation or as security for the safe keeping and prompt payment of the public money deposited with such banks, but when any such bonds deposited for the purposes aforesaid shall be designated for purchase or redemption by the Secretary of the Treasury, the banking association depositing the same shall have the right to substitute other issues of the bonds of the United States in lieu thereof; provided that no bond upon which interest has ceased shall be accepted or shall be continued on deposit as security for circulation or for the safekeeping of the public money; and in case bonds so deposited shall not be withdrawn as provided by law within thirty days after interest has ceased thereon the banking association depositing the same shall be subject to the liabilities and proceedings on the part of the Comptroller provided for in section 5,234 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and provided further that section 4 of the Act of June 20, 1874, entitled "An act fixing the amount of United States notes, providing for a redistribution of the national bank currency and for other purposes," be and the same is hereby repealed, and sections 5,159 and 5,160 of the Revised Statutes of the United States be and the same are hereby re-enacted.

SEC. 6.—That this act shall be known as "the Funding act of 1881," and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

The following are the sections referred to in section 5 of the bill as having been re-enacted:—

SEC. 5,159.—Every association, after having complied with the provisions of this title preliminary to the commencement of the banking business, and before it shall be authorized to commence banking business under this title, shall transfer and deliver to the Treasurer of the United States any United States registered bonds, bearing interest to an amount not less than $30,000 and not less than one-third of the capital stock paid in. Such bonds shall be received by the Treasurer upon deposit and shall be, by him, safely kept in his office until they shall be otherwise disposed of in pursuance of the provisions of this title.

SEC. 5,160.—The deposit of bonds made by each association shall be increased as its capital may be paid up or increased, so that every association shall at all times have on deposit with the Treasurer registered United States bonds to the amount of at least one-third of its capital stock actually paid in. And any association that may desire to reduce its capital or to close up its business and dissolve its organization, may take up its bonds upon returning to the Comptroller its circulating notes in the proportion hereinafter required, or may take up any excess of bonds beyond one-third of its capital stock and upon which no circulating notes have been delivered.

MISTAKING THE POPULAR DEMAND.

[From the N Y Tribune]

A good many of the mistakes—probably most of them—made by the gentlemen who are intrusted by the people with the functions of legislation are due to a misconception of what the people expect of them. It would be better for the country and for the constituents whom those representatives desire to serve if, instead of worrying themselves and everybody else, beating about in painful endeavors to do something, they would content themselves with simply drawing their pay and doing nothing. The trouble is every man who is elected to Congress—or almost every one—gets an idea that he has a mission, and that the people of his district have sent him to Congress to fulfil it. He thinks his constituents are dissatisfied with the existing conditions, and want some sort of change, some old law altered or repealed, or some new one enacted, some tinkering of tariff or currency; something or other to keep the legislative mill a-grinding. The actual truth is that more than half the members are elected because their constituents wish to do them an honor and give them a chance to hold a position of influence and get a good salary. Not one in ten in any constituency desires his representative to do anything in particular, or procure anything to be done in the way of legislation, and all of them would be quite content to have their representatives do nothing, but let well enough alone, sit still and see the salvation of the Lord.

Most of the currency tinkering that has been attempted during the past six or eight years has been by members of Congress who labored under the insane delusion that they must "do something" in order to satisfy their constituents. Restless and uneasy themselves, they conceive the notion that their constituents are the same, and that they are not fairly representing them unless they are constantly at the crank of legislation or the bellows of debate. With serious unconsciousness of their own limitations, they naturally rush in where angels fear to tread, and tackle with complacent imbecility the most abstruse questions of political economy and finance. But their misconception of what their constituents expect of them, mischievous as it is, is not so bad in its results as their utter misapprehension of the disposition and temper of the people behind them. It is bad enough for Congressmen to act upon the notion that their constituents expect them all the time to be doing something. It is infinitely worse when they imagine that something to be sharp, overreaching and dishonest. The lurking devil in all the financial tinkering that has put the credit of the country in peril so many times in the past dozen years is the belief in the minds of the half-thinkers in Congress that the ruling popular passion is to dodge wholly or in part the payment of honest debts. Unfortunately this hallucination has not always been confined to one party. There have been times when some Republicans have been overcome by it, and with a distrust of the final sense of honesty and honor in the people which did them no credit, have yielded to the pressure and consented to one sort and another of compromises of a questionable character. Those times have passed, and now, thanks to the integrity and courage of the majority, the unyielding will of President Grant and the persistent veto of President Hayes, the Republican party is in nothing more united and solid than in the belief that the people mean to be honest and to pay one hundred cents on the dollar.

A good illustration of the manner in which some Congressmen misconceive the popular temper was given the other day in a speech on the Refunding bill by Mr. Bland, of Missouri. He was advocating the provision to pay out silver dollars in redemption of the bonds, and his argument was simply that it would "cost the people less." "At the present price of silver bullion," he said, "$48,000,000 of revenues will purchase sufficient bullion to coin 54,000,000 of standard silver dollars." Here, he says, "is a clear profit of $6,000,000 on every $48,000,000 worth of bullion, so that we save to the people $6,000,000 on every $54,000,000 of debt thus paid." Then he goes on to show that by this process we can make a profit of $72,000,000 in coinage, and pay off $600,000,000 with $528,000,000 in ten years. "This," he says, "is what the people expect and demand of us." That is to say, with the country prosperous as never before, the national credit on a par with the best in the world, the debt in process of payment at a rate which, though rapid, puts no hardship upon the citizen and is hardly felt by the tax payer, Mr Bland believes the people "expect and demand" legislation which shall clip twelve cents off every dollar that is paid to the public creditor. And why should it? Simply because it has the power. Why not clip the dollar in two, and pay fifty cents, or repudiate the whole debt? If the people "expect and demand" sharp practice to the extent of twelve cents on the dollar, they are not likely to stop there, but to "expect and demand" that the whole debt be wiped out by the same cheap and easy process.

The truth, however, is that nothing of the kind is expected or demanded. Mr. Bland is not sent to Congress to clip the coin, water the currency, or cheat the public creditor. The people are much more anxious that this Nation should maintain its dignity, credit and good name, by paying its debts in full, than that it should save twelve cents on the dollar by taking advantage of its creditors. The people, in short, as a whole, are honest. They expect and demand that their representatives be the same—no more and no less. It takes some of these currency tinkers a long time to find it out; but the sooner they settle down to that conclusion, and act upon it, the better will it be for their future political aspirations. The devil of cheating has been sowing his temptations abroad these many years, but it is beginning to be found out that this is not a cheating age, nor we a cheating people.

The Nation doesn't want Blaine to be Secretary of State, because he has never sat up nights practicing stupidity with the Noodles. As a Republican will occupy the position, the Constitution prefers Blaine, because he is thoroughly American in his views and training.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution (Dem.)

Governor Plaisted in his message to the Maine Legislature, having declared that the law for the imprisonment of debtors is the chief cause of the emigration from the State, it is proposed to call a convention of fugitives and resolve that Plaisted is a bigger ass than most Maine Fusionists.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

THE WORST MESSAGE.

[From the Philadelphia American.]

We should not like to say which is the best of the Governors' messages of this year. But it is easy to say which is the worst. Mr. Plaisted, of Maine, a former member of the Republican party, and now the Greenback Governor of Maine, bears away the bill. For some time past, we infer, Mr. Plaisted has been reading nothing but "National" newspapers. He may like that sort of diet, but we should say that it has proved in his case an extreme ly unwholesome pabulum. No doubt he has been counting on making a sensation by his fearless remarks on corporations, millionaires, interest of money and other favorite topics of his favorite newspapers. If so, his wish has been gratified. The message has produced a sensation of wonderment that any man with ability enough to win his way to the Executive chair of a New England State, could prove so devoid of common sense and ordinary gumption. Mr. Plaisted has not helped his party, but he has helped the country to realize what half-baked statesmen are the leaders of that party.

In the Commercial of last evening an editorial, obviously prepared by Governor Plaisted exhibits two of his characteristic traits. first, in confessing to the plagiarism of a figure of speech used in his address, and second, in attempting to creep for shelter under a corner of the mantle of Daniel Webster, by grossly perverting the application of a fragment of a great discourse, the whole purport of which was opposed to the revolutionary demagogism of Plaisted's harangue. We shall have a word to say to morrow about this latest literary performance of the present occupant of the honored position of Governor of Maine.

NEW MAGAZINES.

The February WIDE AWAKE comes well packed with matter for the delight of the entire family circle, for certainly the great thirty-two paged supplement containing the first portion of George McDonald's new story, "Warlock o' Glenwarlock," will be as warmly welcomed by thousands of adult readers, as the funny seven paged illustrated ballad of "Jan Upernavik of Omenak" by hosts of school boys everywhere. Very dramatic, too, are the illustrated poems of "Cats," by Mrs. Annie L. Jack, and "Nobody's Cat," by Mrs. Clara Doty Bates. Rev. Edward Everett Hale gathers his club of young folks to talk over the Southern Educational Fund and the Irish land-troubles. In these "talks" with Mr. Hale, others than boys and girls can get at the root of many political matters. Mr. Arthur Gilman, in his "Battle of The Types," will hold the attention of all interested in the spelling reform. Mrs. Emily Huntington Miller has a capital story, "The Reign of the Georges;" Annette L. Noble tells "A True Bit of History," and A. G. Plympton of "Dolly's Valentines," while the most stirring story of all is Frank H. Taylor's "Racing a Thunder Storm." All these stories are illustrated. The serials, "Rocky Fork," "The Story of Honor Bright," and Mrs. A. M. Diaz' "Polly Cologne," are delightful and from a literary point of view much superior to the usual juvenile serial. On the "Money Page," four Cash Prizes are offered for the four best black-and-white drawings. Only $2.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

A London despatch of the 24th, states that in the House of Commons Mr. Forster, Chief Secretary of Ireland rose in a very crowded house to move a bill for the protection of life and property in Ireland. He justified the bill by a detailed description of outrages committed. He said: There is a reign of terror. Those who break the law are safe, while honest men, who keep it, are in danger. The land League strikes terror, we must therefore strike terror into them. We must arrest these criminals. The bill asks power for the Viceroy to arrest persons reasonably suspected as principals or accessories, in treasonable offences, such power to remain in force until Sept. 30th, 1882. Mr Forster announced the object of a second bill to be to put matters in reference to possession of arms in much the same position as under the Peace Preservation Act, which expired last year. The bill will be restrictive as regards arrests for treason. It will apply to the whole of Ireland, but regarding agrarian and other crimes, it will apply to proclaimed districts only.

"SEC 9—Any unnecessary waste of water, or allowing it to be used by parties not specified in the application, will subject the offender to an immediate stoppage of the water and the payment of not less than double the rates, as estimated by the inspector."

Owing to the extravagant waste of the water by takers, the Superintendent is directed by the Water Board to enforce the foregoing provisions of said ordinance.

The old Family Physician at Fault—Dr David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity at [illegible] a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Abram Elsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster Co N Y, has realized this truth. His disease attacked the whole of his thigh bone and the man looked forward not without apprehension to death as his only deliverer. Little [illegible] then refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y. who was consulted held a different opinion. He amputated the limb. The Doctor then [illegible] prescribed freely his great Blood Specific FAVORITE REMEDY to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease and Mr Elsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the spring of foul blood, and Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY purified the blood and restored it. Is the power once more to enjoy his life after suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. A bill was presented relating to the Municipal Court of Brunswick, which gives the jurisdiction of trial justices to Judge, and authority for the appointment of a Recorder when a vacancy occurs.

A bill was presented additional to Sec. 5, chap. 74, of public laws of 1878, as amended by Sec. 20, chap. 154, of public laws of 1879, relating to suits in insolvency.

Orders of inquiry were introduced relating to the expediency of enacting a law that no person shall be deemed to be ineligible to serve upon a school committee by reason of sex; relating to so amending chapter 114, public laws of 1876, that the death penalty shall be restored in all cases where capital offences are committed by convicts while under sentence for life; relating to so amending chap. 49, sec. 65, Revised Statutes as to make accident insurance policies exempt from attachment; relating to conveyance of such interests as the State may have in lot No. 115 in the town of Mars Hill, to S. G. Wheeler, who now occupies said lot under deed from the E. & N. A. Railroad Company.

The following resolves were presented by Mr. Parsons (Dem.) of New Portland, and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

Whereas, The commerce of the United States was unlawfully preyed upon by the French Government prior to A. D. 1800, at a time when said nation and the United States were at peace, hereby destroying the property of citizens of this State, as well as of several other States of the nation, to the amount of several millions of dollars; and

Whereas, In the treaty of September 30, A. D. 1800, the United States in accordance with previous demands, received compensation for said property, known as the "French Spoliation claims," with the positive agreement that the indemnities due by France to the citizens of the United States should be paid by the United States; and

Whereas, said claims have never been paid to those sufferers or their heirs; and

Whereas, said claims have been and are now universally acknowledged justly due all these claimants and a bill paying said claims having twice passed both branches of Congress, lacking only the signature of the President of becoming a law; therefore

Resolved, That we earnestly urge Congress and our own legislators there especially to bring the matter up for action during the present Congress.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of our Congressional legislators.

Passed to be engrossed: Act authorizing the County Commissioners of Somerset County to reassess certain taxes; an act amending chap. 174, laws of 1877, so as to embrace "guardians" within its provisions; an act authorizing the County Commissioners of Washington County to reassess certain taxes; an act incorporating Auburn Steam Heating Company.

Penobscot & Lake Megantic R. R. Co.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 25.

There will be a vigorous opposition to the petition of the Penobscot & Lake Megantic railroad company, when it comes up before the railroad committee. The company asks for an amendment of its charter so that it may be authorized and empowered to locate and construct a direct and independent line of railroad from some point on the line of the European & North American Railway between the Passadumkeag and Mattawamkeag rivers, to some point on the west line of the State between township number 3 in the 5th range of townships and the mouth of Moose river. The company also wants authority to lease or sell its railroad with all rights to the same belonging, either before or after its completion, to any other railroad company, either in or out of the State; to take a lease of or buy any other connecting railroad, either domestic or foreign, or to amalgamate its stock with the stock of any such connecting railroad, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon; and that the organization mentioned in the fifteenth section of chap. 541 of the private laws of 1871 (which contains its charter) may be declared to mean and be the preliminary organization mentioned in the fourteenth or next preceding section and all doubt as to the organization and existence of the company removed.

It is said to be the object of those interested in this scheme to get hold of the Bangor & Piscataquis railroad, which the city of Bangor is largely interested in, at an enormous sacrifice, the same being reported at some $500,000. The city solicitor of Bangor, backed by the representatives of that city, will appear before the committee in opposition to the scheme.

State Agricultural College.

The Agricultural Committee gave a hearing, this afternoon, to President Fernald, of the State Agricultural College, and Judge Bean and A. M. Robinson, Trustees of the Institution, who ask for an appropriation of $12,300 to meet the wants for the years 1881 and 1882, to maintain the usefulness of the College. The appropriation for 1882 is asked for because there will be no session of the Legislature that year.

For the year 1881 the following sums will be needed:

To pay for instruction, in addition to the revenue of the Endowment Fund,	$3,000
For farm experiments,	200
Apparatus,	550
Library,	200
Repairs of buildings,	300
Traveling expenses of Trustees,	250
Construction of building for classes in shop work,	1,800
Equipments for the same,	500
Total,	$6,800

A larger sum, however, will be needed to pay for instruction in 1882 than in 1881. The reason for this is, that several of the younger members of the Board of Instruction have been employed at very moderate salaries, and their increased efficiency, following from enlarged experience, will entitle them to an increase of salary for the year 1882.

There will be needed to pay instruction for the year 1882, the sum of ... $4,000

For ordinary current expenses, as indicated in the enumeration for 1881, ... 1,500

Total for 1882, ... $5,500

The Case of Rufus Hatch

against the Western Union, American Union and Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Companies, to prevent consolidation, came up this morning on an order to show cause why the temporary injunction granted by the Supreme Court last week, should not be made permanent. Affidavits of officers of various telegraph companies were read, in which they claimed the consolidations would be for the interest of the stockholders and the public; but there was no conspiracy to establish a monopoly or higher rates or to increase the profits of the Western Union Telegraph Company at the expense of the American Union or the public, and that the action of Hatch was caused by his displeasure at being left out of the "deal" as he himself termed it.

Further affidavits were submitted and arguments on both sides followed. Adjourned until to-morrow.

WASHINGTON.

Secretary Sherman on the Funding Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. The Senate Committee on Finance heard Secretary Sherman on the funding bill to-day. He took the position that it should be amended so as to make the funding bonds redeemable after five years and payable in twenty after date, with interest at 3½, the rate to be fixed in the discretion of the Secretary.

The Treasury funding certificates proposed by the bill, which he thought should be described as "Treasury notes," he thought could be floated at 3 per cent. without any change in the House provision for their redemption, at any time after one year from the respective dates of issue.

In response to an inquiry whether or not in his opinion bonds could be floated at 3 per cent if the term should be fixed at 30 years without an option for earlier redemption, replied that he was not prepared to answer the question.

The committee will hear the Comptroller of the Currency to-morrow.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Irish State Trials.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25. A Dublin dispatch of last night says that Judge Fitzgerald in his charge yesterday denied the statement that the Americans were in sympathy with the Land League. He said these statements in reference to the citizens of the United States are unjust, unfounded and calumnious. When I speak of the American people I mean the native born citizens of America. They are not responsible for the mere feelings of those who are but the Irish immigrants among them.

His charge was dead against the Traversers. The League Rules, speeches, meetings, resolutions and actions were all declared to be absolutely illegal and against the laws of the country.

A disagreement of the jury is expected. The charge will conclude at midday to-morrow.

Parnell received a tremendous ovation when he left the court, being loudly cheered.

There is great excitement in the city to-night. Processions bearing torches, carrying American flags and accompanied by bands playing the national airs are parading the streets.

WHY IT IS SO.

The reason why Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" cures complaints of the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Blood, is that it is compounded of the very remedies which Nature herself has provided for this purpose. Being at first scattered through the woods and fields, Dr. K. has collected them, and after long and careful experiments has condensed their virtues in the form which he now confidently offers to the sick and suffering. One Dollar expended for a bottle will convince you and make you grateful that you read this item. The Doctor's office practice is in Rondout, N. Y. Write him a statement of your case.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S "FAVORITE REMEDY" stimulates and helps Nature in her efforts to throw off disease. It does not fight nature. It does not send the unhappy sufferer into deeper pits of pain under the pretense of doing him good. It acts tenderly and sympathetically like a mother lulling her child into sleep and health. Do you have trouble with your digestion, your kidneys, your liver? Is your head thick and heavy? "Favorite Remedy" will drive out the poison and make you well again. NOT A BEVERAGE. "They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poor whiskey or poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, i. e. more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them." —Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

COMMENCING YOUNG. Fred Savage, son of Joseph Savage, who is in State Prison for murder, has been removed from the Biddeford city farm to the Reform School. The boy seems to have inherited the vicious disposition of his father. Not long ago he carried burning coals into a shed connected with the main building at the farm, and placing them upon the floor left them to burn. The smoke was discovered in time to prevent a serious fire. His last act was the stealing of a gun from a neighboring house and selling it.

THE LAKE MEGANTIC RAILROAD. By reference to our Augusta special it will be seen that the proposed scheme of the Lake Megantic Railroad Company to procure an amendment of its charter from the Legislature, for the purpose of constructing an independent line in this State, will meet with a vigorous opposition. The matter naturally excites deep interest in this city, many believing that the proposed line would be very disastrous to the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad. President Giddings and several of the Directors of the road, together with Mayor Brown and City Solicitor Vose will appear before the legislative railroad committee to oppose the scheme.

A BAD CUSTOMER. Last evening as the train was about leaving the E. & N. A. station, the officials attempted to arouse an Indian who had been taking more of the ardent than was good for him, in order to send him home in the cars. This act of kindness was not appreciated, however, for no sooner had Mr. Injun opened his eyes than he attempted to eat some of those engaged in the labor of love. Quite an exciting scene followed, during the course of which the fellow succeeded in getting Mr. Amos Colson's little finger in his mouth and inflicted a serious wound before he was made to remove his teeth. Officer McCoy was present and with Mr. Chaplain, baggage master, took the Indian to the station house. Mr. Colson, who is the night watchman, was obliged to see a physician in order to get the wound dressed.

BATH'S CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY. The Sagadahoc Historical Society has perfected a programme for a celebration on the 10th of March, of the hundredth anniversary of the first town meeting at Bath. The town was incorporated Feb. 17, 1781, but after the news had come from Boston and proper notice had been given for the first meeting, a month had elapsed. The city will be decorated for the occasion; business will be suspended; the bells will be rung, and a national salute fired. The act of incorporation and record of the organization will be read at one of the churches, and an oration will be delivered by some person not yet named. Then a procession with music will march to City Hall, where a collation will be served.

ABSENT MINDED. At a station on the Maine Central Railroad, near Bangor, where the mail is usually caught from a post, the train was stopped Tuesday evening by the flag which was hung out for it. As soon as the train stopped, the man who carries the mail appeared at the postal car door with the sack on his shoulder, and wanted to know if they had caught the mail. Being told that it had not been caught, he flung the bag on the platform and rushed into the depot to look for the bag which he thought he must have forgotten to hang on the post. After a vain search, he came to himself, as it were, and hurried back to the platform where he had just deposited the bag which he handed into the car with the remark: "I guess I am a little crazy." The flag being up at the station he was going to deliver the mail by hand, but the force of habit was so strong that he forgot what he was doing even while the sack was on his shoulder.

A PLEASANT COMPANY. Mr and Mrs. F. O. Beal, of the Bangor House, entertained a party of their friends at the hotel last evening. Several rooms were thrown open in connection with the large parlor, thus giving the guests ample opportunity to enjoy the various amusements arranged for their entertainment. The early part of the evening was devoted to dancing, and at eleven o'clock the company was invited into the dining hall where choice refreshments were served. After this interesting ceremony the guests again returned to the parlor, where various games served to make the time pass altogether too quickly to suit those present. Mr. Robinson, of Bath, a gentleman possessing rare elocutionary gifts, added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion by several happy recitations. It was a late hour when the party took leave of the genial host and hostess, all being unanimous in pronouncing the evening one of real enjoyment.

THE TOURISTS. An audience that filled every part of Norombega Hall to overflowing assembled last evening to greet the "Tourists," and if hearty laughter and long-continued applause can be taken as criterions the entertainment was highly satisfactory. There is no plot to the piece, but the fun commences in the first act and does not end until the curtain falls at the close. The scene is laid in a Pullman car which a party has chartered for a trip out West, and having taken the whole car they determine to make the most of the journey by a variety entertainment. The scenery representing the interior of the car was excellent. The company does not contain a poor artist, while many of the leaders are near perfection in their specialities. One of the most ludicrous features of the evening was when Mestayer, who weighs in the vicinity of three hundred pounds, appeared in a low-necked pinafore, representing "Little Eva" in Uncle Tom's Cabin. Miss Swain's dancing and somersaults in the telegraph boy's song called forth a spirited encore.

MESSRS. PARKER & PEAKES.

A Glance Through Their Factory.

While out in search of items yesterday, a reporter of the WHIG dropped into Messrs. Parker & Peakes' boot and shoe factory, on Exchange street, which is now one of the busiest places in the city. They furnish constant employment for sixty-five hands, and in about a month when the rush of work begins, they will increase their force fifteen or twenty hands. The members of this firm are both young men, who by personal attention to business and strict integrity in all of their transactions, have gradually increased their facilities during the nine years that they have been located here, until at the present time they have established a most enviable reputation for fair dealing, and a business that is not only a credit to the city, but proves a great benefit to many of those who are obliged to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow.

Since the first of the year they have been principally engaged in the manufacture of calf boots and driving boots and shoes. The most of their goods find a market in the New England States, but occasionally they ship a lot out West. During the past year they have been adding new machinery from time to time, so that now it is all of the most improved pattern.

The first floor is devoted to stitching, crimping and cutting the sole leather; the second floor to bottoming, treeing, cutting the upper leather, drying and packing the goods ready for market. On this floor there are several new machines, the operation of which is exceedingly interesting. One is used for removing the pegs, the knives being ingeniously arranged so as to fit the sole and heel of the boot, and although the pegs are cut in the twinkling of an eye, there is not the least danger of injuring the upper part of the boot when manipulated by an experienced hand. Some idea of the time required to remove the pegs from a boot may be formed when it is known that the knives make about thirty-five hundred revolutions a minute. Another machine is known as Buzzell's edge trimmer, which is used to finish the sole of the boot. It performs its work very neatly and at the same time in a rapid manner, so that one man can now do the work of six or seven by the old hand process. Still another new machine is used for shaping or leveling the soles—a strange looking affair, by which the boot can be placed in almost any position required, the leveling being done by a steel roller. The machine does away with the old way of pounding the soles with a hammer, and is, of course, a great improvement.

The factory now turns out a thousand pairs of boots and shoes a week. Mr. Parker informed our reporter that their business has improved very much since last year, and the really busy season is yet to come. In years past they have always commenced the first of the season by manufacturing and storing goods ready for the market, but this year they began on orders and have had all they could attend to, which is certainly an encouraging outlook.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

A Statement from the Trustees.

Below we publish at some length extracts from the pamphlet recently issued by the Trustees of the Theological Seminary, giving a historical sketch of the institution and its present needs:

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Seminary was chartered by the Legislature of Massachusetts in 1814, and was opened for pupils in the autumn of 1816. Three years later, it was removed from Hampden to Bangor, and there its first class was graduated in 1820. In that year the Province of Maine was separated from Massachusetts and became an independent State. It was larger than all the rest of New England, and contained a population of three hundred thousand souls. This population scattered over so wide a territory, needed to be provided with pastors and teachers; and within the bounds of the entire State Bowdoin College was the only institution existing, above the grade of academy. But the college was doing her work as a classical institution, and not specially for the training of the ministry. The godly men and women of the churches who had become anxiously interested in the problem, saw that the college must be supplemented by a school of theology. They could not, for their ministers, look back to their mother state, for Andover, then only recently established, could not fill the demand of its own field. Yale and East Windsor seminaries were not yet projected. Maine must provide for herself. It was out of this necessity that Bangor Seminary arose. It was the child of emergency, as well as of faith and prayer.

LOCATION AND FIELD.

That necessity has grown with its growth. During the sixty years of its life the population of the State has more than doubled. The Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and the Canadas, have added their Macedonian cry to that of the State herself; and, with no other seminary of our order east of Andover, Bangor has labored single-handed to supply the Congregational churches and missions of a field whose extent can be understood by those only who are personally familiar with it. Taking Bangor as a centre, it will be found to be midway between the extreme northeastern and southwestern points of the State, and more than one hundred and fifty miles on the air-line from either; it is nearly midway between the western boundary and the farthest eastern point, somewhat more than a hundred miles from the one and a little less than a hundred from the other; while to the northern-most point the distance is nearly two hundred. These dimensions reach only the boundaries of the great expanse beyond. A line drawn from Bangor to the eastern point of Nova Scotia would measure four hundred miles; to the northeastern coast of New Brunswick nearly three hundred; and to Montreal on the northwest two hundred and fifty. Within the immense territory indicated by these figures there is no other Congregational institution of this class. New Brunswick has none. Nova Scotia has none. The only one for the provinces is at Montreal, where the College of British North America educates a few young men for the ministry. That is the only Congregational training school in the entire Dominion; and that is three hundred miles in a straight line from the capital of New Brunswick, and more than four hundred from the capital of Nova Scotia. The distances by the routes of travel are much greater.

It will be easily seen what privation would ensue to large numbers of churches and missions in a field so extensive, if the seminary at Bangor were allowed to languish and die. These churches feel themselves to be in relations with this institution which they sustain toward no other. Many of their young men they send here for ministerial training; and here they look for fresh pastors to take the places of those who are passing away. If this seminary were to disappear from the field, there is no other which could assume its responsibilities and take up its work. Andover cannot supply her own field and this too, nor can Yale, nor Hartford. The result would be that large numbers of churches and home missionary stations would find themselves entirely deprived of the regular ministrations of the Gospel.

IN THE FIELD AT LARGE.

It is to be noted further, that the work of the seminary is not confined to the sphere just described, broad as it is. Like the alumni of other seminaries, hers also are to be found scattered as pastors through the more populous States, or toiling as home missionaries on our western frontier, or carrying the Gospel beyond the seas. During the sixty years of her existence she has sent out six hundred graduates, and has educated for one or more years without graduation one hundred and sixty more. These men have made a faithful and useful body of workers. The majority of them are still living, and are at their posts all over the land or on foreign shores, in pulpits of many denominations, and of every grade of eminence. Six of them are now college presidents. Thirteen have been professors in colleges or seminaries. Twenty-four have devoted their lives to the work of foreign missions, and large numbers to the toils and privations of home missions. The relation of the seminary to the field at large is indicated by the fact that of the one hundred and thirty-three students in the last ten classes on the general catalogue of this year, sixty-six came from other States, and twenty-seven from the British provinces; and of the aggregate, sixty-nine, or more than fifty per cent., are now laboring at points outside of Maine. To the state itself the permanence of the seminary is absolutely essential. Of the two hundred and forty-three Congregational churches in Maine, there are few, large or small, that have not received pastors from her repeatedly; and of the one hundred and thirty-eight settled ministers now laboring in these churches, ninety-three, or seventy per cent., have been educated here.

THE SEMINARY.

This glance at the history of the Seminary and its field shows at once that its position and work are somewhat peculiar. The two hundred and forty-three Congregational churches of Maine depend chiefly on this Seminary for their ministerial supply. The wide field in which the Maine Missionary Society operates looks hither also for the most of its missionaries. As there is only one other theological institution of any denomination in the State, (the theological department of Bates College at Lewiston), young men of other evangelical denominations looking forward to the ministry are led in considerable numbers to seek the advantages here offered. As many as twenty students of this class have been connected with the Seminary during the last ten years. Then the exigencies of Christian work in this whole region have been so pressing that the supply of liberally educated ministers has proved insufficient; and, as a consequence, the number of non-graduates applying for admission to the Seminary has been steadily increasing. * * * * *

ITS UNDENOMINATIONAL CHARACTER.

The Seminary is strictly Congregational. Its Board of Trustees and its Faculty are composed of members of Congregational churches. But the circumstances of its history and situation have tended to give the institution an undenominational character. Its great aim has been to fit men to preach the Gospel, and it has welcomed to its instructions students of every Christian name, making no discrimination among them. Most of those who come to us from other denominations retain their previous denominational connection after graduation. There are indeed frequent exceptions to this rule, but they are the result of purely voluntary action. Our graduates are scattered over the whole broad field that surrounds us, working in the unity of the Spirit, though not all denominationally connected; and our sphere of labor and influence thus extends beyond denominational limits, and tends practically to the development of Christian union and fellowship among all our evangelical churches.

AIM OF ITS INSTRUCTION.

The intensely practical and urgent character of the work of this Seminary has also given a like character to its instruction. Its object is to train an active, working ministry; and it keeps especially in view the needs of the wide missionary fields that surround us. These fields demand plain Biblical preaching; and accordingly a leading aim of all Seminary instruction is to inculcate a system of truth and a method of preaching it, which shall secure the best practical results. The theology taught is Biblical rather than dogmatic, and the end sought is to make earnest Gospel preachers and evangelists.

THE STUDENTS AND THE COURSE OF STUDY.

But we desire to call special attention to the peculiar requirements connected with our course of study in our effort to adapt it to the needs of the students, and also to make it as practically useful to them as possible. And here it will be needful to explain more at length the diversities of educational attainment among those who seek admission to the Seminary.

A portion of our students are classically educated. And the Seminary curriculum is arranged with direct reference to their attainments and needs. It includes the four regular departments of Hebrew and Greek exegesis, Systematic Theology, Ecclesiastical History, and Sacred Rhetoric. * * * But a portion of our students are deficient in classical education. The general question of the expediency of admitting students of this class to the Seminary we do not propose to discuss here. It is enough to say that this work seems to have been forced upon us by providential circumstances. Our colleges are failing to supply ministers in sufficient numbers to meet the demand, and the proportion of candidates for the ministry that come from our colleges is steadily lessening.

Meanwhile the call for ministers is as steadily growing. Maine in particular has a large number of churches and communities that are religiously destitute. Many of these churches are small and weak, and unable to secure the services of men of liberal education. Such churches must accept ministers of more limited culture or lose almost entirely the stated means of grace. Hence it is that so many men of Christian gifts are pressing into the ministry without the preparation formerly deemed essential. We are constantly admitting to this Seminary men of this class, who after licensure and even settlement have come to the Seminary to fit themselves more thoroughly for their work. * * * * *

We now present a complete statement of our financial condition, which discloses the difficulties under which we labor.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Real estate, including buildings	$65,000
Library, (15,000 volumes)
Funds whose income is devoted to aid of indigent students	38,253
Library fund	10,000
Funds for endowment of professorships	200,000
Funds for general expenses	62,953

It will be noted that the last two items represent the whole amount of productive funds whose income can be used for the current expenses of the Seminary.

We append a statement of total incomes and expenditures during the last five years.

Year	Income	Expenditure
1876	$14,165 33	$14,764 68
1877	13,030 93	18,163 70
1878	12,556 67	19,940 43
1879	12,684 57	15,013 48
1880	12,180 17	15,251 95
	$65,896 67	$81,753 90

It will be seen that, during the five years, the income has fallen behind the expenditure, on an average, more than $3,000 yearly. How, it will be asked, has the Seminary been continued under such extraordinary circumstances? Simply by means of fresh gifts of its friends, which have providentially sufficed to relieve us of temporary embarrassments. This indeed is the condition in which the Seminary has always been. Its funded property has never yielded an income sufficient to meet the annual expenditure, and it has been necessary always to depend on the chance favors of its benefactors. But this source of help is and must continue to be changeable and unreliable; and a fresh embarrassment makes it impossible longer to rest upon it. Our funds, though safely invested, are now yielding less income than hitherto, because in making new investments former rates cannot be obtained. So that even with the present rate of expenditure there is threatened a larger deficit in coming years than in the past. So serious did the financial condition of the Seminary appear a year ago, in view of this fact, that the Trustees felt compelled to reduce expenses temporarily in certain directions, where a permanent reduction would be disastrous. Even the former provision for instruction cannot be continued under present financial conditions. But it has been shown that the Seminary cannot do its work in the best manner without an increased equipment, involving an increased outlay.

OUR NEEDS.

These then are our financial needs: first, the completion of the endowments of the professorships; second, an increase of the general fund to meet other current expenses; third, a new endowment for a permanent chair of instruction in New Testament Greek.

THE ALTERNATIVE.

This statement shows plainly that the appeal now made to the Christian public is compelled by our condition. The contraction of our income makes it impossible to continue even our present rate of expenditure without increased financial embarrassment. We are thus brought face to face with a serious alternative. We must go forward or fall back. We must give up our effort to provide suitable instruction for young men who come to us, or such further assistance as we need must be secured. The necessities of the field in which the Seminary is placed were the original warrant for its foundation. These necessities, still continued and growing, are the warrant for its present work, and for the appeal now made in its behalf.

FELLOWS' SYRUP

Is a combination of Hypophosphites, originated by me in Canada while under the process of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been employed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success.

It contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonics to retain it, and merit of a high degree. Very respectfully,

JAMES I. FELLOWS.

DR. J. STEVENS

of Veazie, has opened an office in Bangor, No. 4 Main St., Room I, over Buck & Thurston's store, 2d door to Caldwell Sweet's drug store, for the special treatment of Chronic Diseases.

His thorough knowledge of the human system, both in health and disease, also the action of drugs on the same, has convinced him that all minerals or inorganic matter, (such as are not found in the chemical analysis of the several parts of the human system,) taken in as medicine, must become a foreign substance there, and a great cause of disease. Therefore the Dr. has thrown out from his materia medica all such inorganic poisonous matter, as Mercury, Antimony, Lead, Zinc, Copper, &c., and all preparations of same for internal use, and has taken his from the Organic Kingdom, and, in a word, chooses what he considers the best from all the different systems of medicine.

In this reform practice he uses the HEALING BALSAMS, the SOOTHING BALMS, and the NEUTRALIZING MIXTURES taken from God's own Remedies, the Herbal Kingdom, and by science and years of hard toil has so perfected this system of medical practice that many of the old chronic diseases that have been pronounced incurable are now easily cured by this NEW LIFE-GIVING SYSTEM, and when he does cure a disease he leaves no deadly poison nor mineral drug in the human system to create another worse than the first.

The Dr., after due deliberation over his almost unparalleled success in treating Chronic diseases, has determined to make a specialty of the following distressing complaints, which are so puzzling to doctors in general, viz.: All Nervous Diseases, all diseases of Kidney, Liver and Bladder, all diseases peculiar to Females; also Genital Weakness, Early Decay, diseases arising from Youthful Indiscretion, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, Worms, Billiousness, Scrofula Humors, Mercural Humars, Cancers. In this he uses the famous Philadelphia antidote. Scores are now rejoicing by his infallible treatment of Fits and Brain diseases and all diseases of the system he handles with skill and delicacy, and will do you no harm in any case whatever.

Lung Complaints, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Complaints, are treated with great skill, and if he cannot warrant a cure in all cases, he will help, and many cases permanently restored to health. Those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity of being restored to health and happiness, should not miss this rare chance.

Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.
